SYMPOSIUM OF ELECTRONIC MUSIC - OCT. 18, 1970 -

The Electronic Music Studio at the University of Iowa will present two electronic synthesizer demonstrations and an afternoon concert of electronic music Sunday, Oct. 18. Featured in the demonstrations will be the well-known Moog Synthesizer and the new "Putney" from Ionic Industries, Inc. An effort will be made to explain the operation of each unit, to suggest some of their vast possibilities, and to answer any technical and practical questions that may arise.

All people interested in electronic music and in studio development are invited to the day's events. The schedule and places follow.
