Lecture by Author John Barth Set for Saturday

John Barth, one of the most acclaimed American writers of his time, will lecture next week. Professor of literature at John Hopkins University and lecturer at The University of Illinois, Mr. Barth is known throughout the United States as a pop of culture's heroes. His first novel, "The SotYork Society," was recently selected for the National Book Award. The second novel, "The End of the Road," will be the subject of a seminar on Johns Hopkins campus.

Mr. Barth received his B.A. degree from Johns Hopkins in 1969. At Florida University he is now teaching the history of literature. He is the author of several books of poetry, including "The Inheritance." During his stay at Johns Hopkins, Mr. Barth plans to complete his novel, "The End of the Road." The novel, which is being published in a limited edition, will be available at local bookstores.

70's: THE DAWN OF A NEW AND DRAMATIC DECADE

The 1970's are over and the world is still trying to understand what happened. The 1970's. No, not known what lies ahead but what they will be like. Tied together with 1970's looks on a series of events which 1970's looks on. The 1970's looked on the future but now the world is looking at the world of the 1970's. This fascinating book, THE WORLD IN 1970, 1970. These books are carefully researched and written to provide a comprehensive and accurate picture of the world of 1970. This book contains over 300 pages of maps, charts, and photographs. It also includes a glossary of terms and a list of references. The WORLD IN 1970, 1970, is a valuable resource for anyone interested in understanding the world of the 1970's. It is available for only $5.95.

LEARN TO SEW AT FABS

Ladies, register now and learn to sew in our modern sewing machines, under the expert guidance of Mrs. Rosella Lewis, 12601 Harvey Rd., Des Moines, Iowa. This course will meet three times a week, beginning July 15th. The classes will meet from 10:00 to 12:00 each day. The course will cover basic sewing techniques, including cutting, sewing, and finishing. The cost of the course is $25.00. For further information, please call 305-0050, and ask for Mrs. Rosella Lewis.

 Musical Variety Offerings Set for UI Starting Saturday

The University of Iowa Department of Music will present an exciting program of new and experimental music by American composers. The program will feature works by John Adams, Philip Glass, and Steve Reich. These composers are known for their innovative and challenging works, and their music is sure to captivate the audience. The program will be held at the UI School of Music, beginning at 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, September 17th.