Fox's 'Success' succeeds at box office

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ratings success that made the everyday geometric triumph of one of the most popular and longest-running series on TV, "Success," a hit in the ratings last week was the talk of one of the top-rated shows on the tube. The show, which stars Adam West and Kim Basinger, and will be featured in the upcoming television series "Success," has a large, loyal following.

The secret of "Success" is its ability to blend the everyday world of the average Joe with the glamour of the big screen. The show's creators have been careful to avoid the pitfalls that have plagued other shows in the past. They have managed to create a show that is both entertaining and informative.

The show's success is due in part to its cast. West and Basinger are both skilled actors, and their chemistry is evident on screen. The show's success is also due to its writing. The writers have managed to create a show that is both entertaining and informative.

The show's success is also due to its production values. The production team has worked hard to create a show that looks and feels like a movie. The show's success is also due to its marketing. The show's creators have done a good job of getting the word out about the show.

The show's success is also due to its timing. The show premiered at a time when there was a lot of interest in the everyday world of the average Joe. The show's success is also due to its network. The show is broadcast on the ABC network, which has a strong track record for successful shows.

The show's success is also due to its competitors. There are a lot of good shows on the air, but "Success" has managed to stand out. The show's success is also due to its critics. The show has received positive reviews from both the critics and the audience.

In short, "Success" has been a hit. The show's creators have done a good job of creating a show that is both entertaining and informative. The show's success is due to its cast, its writing, its production values, its marketing, its timing, its network, its competitors, and its critics.

The show's success is due to its cast. West and Basinger are both skilled actors, and their chemistry is evident on screen. The show's success is also due to its writing. The writers have managed to create a show that is both entertaining and informative.

The show's success is also due to its production values. The production team has worked hard to create a show that looks and feels like a movie. The show's success is also due to its marketing. The show's creators have done a good job of getting the word out about the show.

The show's success is also due to its timing. The show premiered at a time when there was a lot of interest in the everyday world of the average Joe. The show's success is also due to its network. The show is broadcast on the ABC network, which has a strong track record for successful shows.

The show's success is also due to its competitors. There are a lot of good shows on the air, but "Success" has managed to stand out. The show's success is also due to its critics. The show has received positive reviews from both the critics and the audience.

In short, "Success" has been a hit. The show's creators have done a good job of creating a show that is both entertaining and informative. The show's success is due to its cast, its writing, its production values, its marketing, its timing, its network, its competitors, and its critics.